

World Youth Day is a youth-oriented Roman Catholic Church event.

While the event itself celebrates the Catholic faith, invitation to attend is non-denominational. World Youth Day is not associated with International Youth Day or any of the international observance days.

World Youth Day (or in short 'WYD') was initiated by Pope John Paul II in 1986. It is celebrated on a diocesan level annually, and at a week-long international level every two to three years at different locations. The international level events attract hundreds of thousands of youth from almost every country on the planet. It is a major part of the upsurge in Catholic Youth Work in some countries over recent years; for example, the Director of Catholic Youth Services for England and Wales has said of the event that it would have far-reaching effects, not restricted to those who attended.

"Jornada Mundial de la Juventud" 2011 in Madrid, Spain

The next World Youth Day (WYD) will be held in Madrid, Pope Benedict XVI announced on July 20, 2008 as he waved "arrivederci" to the Catholic masses in Sydney.

The 81-year-old pontiff has officially brought the church's marquee youth event in Australia to a close, ending six days of religious and celebratory events staged across the city.

At the conclusion of the WYD Papal Mass at Randwick Racecourse in Sydney, Australia, the Pope announced WYD 2011 would be hosted by the capital of Spain.
